

BETD Media Fellowship

Call for applications for the BETD Media Fellowship

An opportunity for you to report on the global energy transition!

Apply now – all costs covered!

Deadline: 24 February 2019

Apply now for the Berlin Energy Transition Dialogue (BETD) Media Fellowship that will give aspiring journalists from all over the world the opportunity to come to Berlin in April and enjoy a full week of cutting-edge policy discussions, site visits and networking with the energy sector.

The fellowship is connected to the Berlin Energy Transition Dialogue conference (#betd2019, energydialogue.berlin) hosted by the German Government and taking place on 9–10 April 2019. We invite you to become part of this conference and report on the discussions and innovative energy solutions through social media channels, video clips, interviews and reports.

Please find more information about the media fellowship at <https://fellows.energydialogue.berlin/>

GIZ will cover travel costs including board and lodging. The deadline for applications is 24 February 2019. The number of places is limited!

Reporting on and raising awareness about the international energy transition, renewable energies and energy efficiency are crucial in order to meet the targets set by the Paris Climate Agreement.

Please feel free to share this opportunity with others who might be interested. If you have any questions, you can contact
